ELA

This week, students will practice using facts from text that support their opinions and use them in a graphic organizer. They will practice when an adjective or adverb is needed in a sentence and work with the prefix en- to accurately read and interpret unknown words. As the week concludes, students will have a spelling assessment and begin planning a persuasive paragraph.

SOCIAL STUDIES

We are beginning Chapter 3 in Social Studies this week. Please look for a study guide coming home with your child! This chapter covers the United States Government. Students will learn about our government system and rules and laws that guide our country. They will learn about the history of the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights. At the end of the week, students will begin learning about each branch of our government and their duties.
